

scottyab/rootbeer Status Report

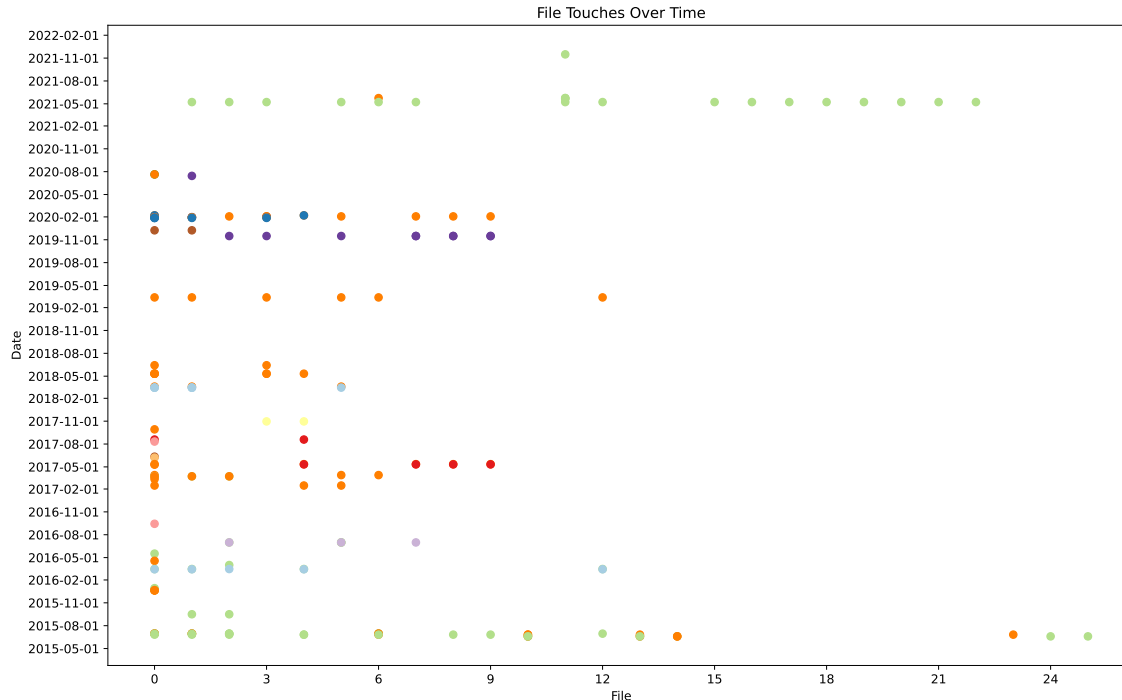

Introduction

This report will detail the progress of the scottyab/rootbeer repository with special consideration towards progress made so far, key developers of the project, and future steps which should be taken to ensure the project's success. Additionally, this report will discuss

Progress Update

Overall, progress on the repository has been going smoothly, with key developers making critical contributions as a whole. In particular, Matthew Rollings (with 71 total changes to source files) and Scott Alexander-Bown (with 65 total changes to source files) have both put considerable effort into the project, completely dwarfing other members contributions.

Taking a look at total contributions to source files, including Java and Kotlin, the graph below shows the result of their hard work. Dots colored in lime are contributions to files by Scott Alexander-Bown, whereas contributions to files by Matthew Rollings are orange.

Other than these two developers, other contributions have been welcome, though quite modest in contrast. Developers "Daniel Kutik", "mat", and "altvnr" made modest contributions attributing to around 30 total changes to source files. Some developers seem to be lacking, typically displaying one or two commits total to source files. These developers include "Grubeli", "Slim Namouchi", "Fi5t", which have the least contributions overall.

Git Commands

Useful git commands for this lab were `git init`, `git clone`, `git branch`, `git checkout`, `git add`, `git commit`, `git push`, `git log`, and `git rebase`.
