Status Report on the Scottyab/Rootbeer Project

Introduction:
This report provides a concise overview of Scottyab/Rootbeer Project. It highlights key findings, insights, and recommendations to facilitate informed decision-making.

Outstanding Employee Contributions:
I am pleased to announce that two members in specific have stepped up and taken lead of this project, Scott Alexander-Bown and Matthew Rollings who have each contributed over 150+ changes to the code individually throughout the lifetime of this project. Their tireless work ethic, innovative thinking, and collaborative spirit have significantly assisted to the project's achievements.

Scatter Plot of Authors by Filename and Date

There have been 106 source file changes over the span of 6 years. Most of the files were recently changed in the past year, with most of those changes being done by two employees, Scott Alexander-Bown and Matthew Rollings. Files 43-66 have been completed by just 1 employee. Should any issues arise with these specific files, reach out to that employee to resolve them.

While there have been some great employees, there are a few developers who could have left the project and made little impact. Grubeli only made 1 commit to the entire project, which was a file that Scott Alexander-Bown was working on. Other employees who could join this list are Stefan M, Slim Namouchi, Roberto Gonzalez, and Fi5t.

Useful Git Commands:
I found the following git commands useful: git checkout, git clone, git add, git commit, and git push.
